Following up the line of investigation commenced vesterday, as to the prevalence of influenza in this city at the present time, it is ascertained to-day that the conservative total given on Tuesday falls far below other opinions held. The percentage of cases grows hourly.

It is only possible to obtain estimates as to the number of cases, since only those who have the acute form apply to physicians. As to its symptoms and infectious qualities, nothing can be added to the published report of the health officer, given out last Friday. One of the physicians seen to day said he positively believed there were two thousand cases within the city limits in its different stages, from mild to violent, while the others placed the aggregate at a smaller number, the average of their estimates being about fifteen hundred

This afternoon a prominent physician gave out a revised estimate of from 1,500 to 2,500 cases in the city.

BARON FAVA'S RECALL.

How it is Received in the Capitals of the World

Special Dispatch to The Independent. Коме, April 1.—Premier Rudini says that he hopes the United States governe

ment will enforce its laws. If it does not a diplomatic rupture is inevitable. The Italian cabinet meets to-day to consider the matter. Influential Italians are urging the gov-ernment to ignore the United States and treat directly with Louisiana. Premier

Rudini says that public opinion demands more vigorous inquiry into the affair. He denies that any Americans will be mistreated in Italy. A dispatch from New York says that Wall streetis not excited in the least over the Italian row. The Italian minister at Washington has not cabled anything decisive to his government in connection with his re-call. Only yesterday United States minister Porter asked the Italian government to be patient and explained the processes necessary in this country. It is plain that the Italian government regards lynchers as common assassins and Another Yarn About Blaine. pecial Dispatch to The Independent. NEW YORK, April I .- The Recorder this morning prints a sensational article furnished by a United States senator, which declares that Mr. Blaine is fearfully ill, and keeps up by sheer will force. The article goes on to say that Mr. Blaine is aware of his condition and presided, and Major McKinley made regards all talk about the presidency as folly. He has lost all his old time vigor and all personal interest in political affairs, outside of his own department. His whole ambition is now centered in living long enough to see reciprocity succeed and Harrison renominated.

Quite a Runaway.

A disastrous runaway, in which Graze & Sonnhalter's pair of horses, attached to their delivery wagon, took the prominent part, occurred this morning. As they were going down the hillside road from Oak to Tremont street the gear failed to turn when rounding a curve, the wagon struck the horses and they started off at a lively rate of speed. The driver and a small boy who was riding with him escaped without injury when the wagon overturned, but the vehicle was transformed into a total wreck by the time the team was stopped in West Tremont street.

Here is a bit of news via the Bureau of American Republics.

"The Brazilian newspapers which arived here in the mail on Saturday contained little else than the discus sion of the reciprocity treaty with the United States. While the remonstrances to the treaty are very loud and earnest, they come almost entirely from English, French and German importers, who have reason to fear that they will lose a large share of their trade because of the advantages offered in the treaty to the merchants and manufacturers of the United States. The Brazilian government is prepared to carry the treaty into effect on the 1st of April, and the necessary instructions have been issued to all the collectors of

This shows how one feature of the McKinley bill is going to work-a feature to which Mr. McKinley adverted in his recent Toledo speech, as delivered, at considerable length and with palpable pride.

The following note went downfrom this paper to-day to C. L. McLain & Co., wholesale grocers:

"Can you give THE INDEPENDENT an approximate idea of the the number of tons of sugar consumed in one year in Massillon?"

And this was the answer:

"Five hundred tons."

Five hundred tons means one million pounds. One million pounds of sugar used in a year in Massillon! The retail prices went down to-day, the average reduction being 13 cents per pound. Carry out the figuring, and it will be seen that Massillon will directly save by the operation of the McKinley law, $17,500 in one year. Under the Mills bill, endorsed by the Democratic party, sugar was not made free, and under Democratic free trade this saving could not have been effected. By this time everybody does, or ought to understand, that the removal of the duty on sugar is a practical illustration of protection, which removes the tariff on articles we can not produce, and claps it on competing wares and products.

THE OHIO LEGISLATURE.

The Garber Salary Bill Passed the House

-- Several New Bills Introduced. COLUMBUS, O., April 1.—After numerous amendments and prolonged discussion, the house passed the Garber salary bill, with only two members dissenting. Some claim the bill will make a total reduction of about $200,000 in the various counties, while others think it has been amended so much that it will reduce salaries very little, if any.

Senator Richards introduced a bill to wipe out limitations of age for seduction, thereby making any male liable to penitentiary imprisonment, whether his female victim is under 18 years or older. Senator Corcoran introduced a bill to amend the section so as to allow corporations to fix limitation of dividends at 8 per cent. per annum on preferred stock instead of 6 per cent. It is claimed the present limitation is a barrier against the forming of corporations under present laws.

Senator Amos introduced a bill to prohibit foreign insurance brokers from doing business in Ohio. It seeks to hold Ohio business for Ohio agents. In the house Mr. Bellville introduced a bill for the relief of Isaac Smith, then the fee and salary bill was taken up and consumed the entire morning hour. The senate passed a number of local bills of no special importance.

The discussion of the Rawlings bill before the joint committee was prolonged till midnight, but no definite action was taken. The farmer members have decided upon another step to have manufactured articles listed for taxation. They have decided to bring suit in the supreme court to test the constitutionality of section 2742, upon which the Rawlings bill is based.

Ex-President Hayes appeared before the house committee on agricultural and spoke against the division of $15,000 be-tween the State University and Wilberforce. A number of prominent colored people were also present in the interest of the division.

Our faith in the observation of Burns, that "Man's inbumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," is greatly shaken as a result, for we haven't seen anyone who sympathizes with us, but have observed many ugly grins upon the faces of those who have occasionally received kindly mention in the Echoes.

By the death of John Walters, whose funeral takes place to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's German Catholic church, one of the old land-marks is removed. Mr. Walters, at his post in the metal room, was a familiar figure to everybody about the works for twenty-eight years, having entered the employ of Russell & Co. in war times, and continuing in the same capacity during all those years, and up to a short time ago when he was taken sick from a complication of diseases, intensified by a severe attack of the grip. NEW INCORPORATION.

The Massillon Land Company, of Portland, Ore.

The Massillon Land Company, of Portland. Ore., has been incorporated, capital $15,000; E. C. Merwin, president; Jacob Moser, vice president and treasurer, and W. J. Clemens, recretary. This company offer for sale 60 lots in Massillon addition to the city of Portland. Prices from $225 to $300, according to location, payable, $50 cash, balance in monthly payments of $10. This is a per-fectly safe investment and will pay from 30 to 50 per cent. in one year's time. Portland's natural advantages make it the metropolis of the great Pacific Northwest, and its present natural growth is wonderful. There is no boom; to the wonderful. There is no boom; to the contrary the city is noted for its conservatism and solidity. The railroads bring in at this the unseasonable time of the year, from 300 to 500 people every day. Two million dollars has recently been appropriated to improve the facilities of Portland. A million dollar Chamber of land. A million dollar Chamber of Commerce building is going up; over a million will be spent on a union depot, and several millions will be spent in erecting large business blocks the coming year. From 500 to 1 000 lots are sold each month; over 500 houses and buildings are now in course of preparation, and the rates will increase during the summer. Six electric, three steam motor and one cable railroad lines have just been completed, and four more are building, one to be within one block of Massillon Addition. It will pay you to invest at once. For full particulars, call upon A. H. COLEMAN, agent, Massillon.

BLAINE AMAZED.

MINISTER FAVA PRESENTS HIS RECALL PAPERS.

Open Hostility on the Part of the Italian Government.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT CONSID-ERABLY SURPRISED.

The Result of the Recent New Orleans

The Letter from Governor Nicholls to the Adjustments Between the Two Countries Touching the New Orleans Massacre-Marquis Imperiali, Secretary of the Legation, Will Take Charge of Current Affairs - It is Equivalent to an Open Declaration

Washington, April 1.—Baron Fava, only. In his note to Secretary Blaine, the United States government has not given assurances that the murderers of the Italian subjects acquitted by American magistrates and murdered in prison while under the immediate protection of the authorities of New Orleans would be brought to justice, the Italian governis unable to obtain justice.

Fava to Leave for Italy.

Baron Fava will leave for Italy in a short time. During his absence the legation will be in charge of the secretary of legation, Marquis Imperiali, but the Satter will not have the authority of a minister. He will have charge of cur-rent routine matters only. The recall of Baron Fava puts an end to any further direct communication between the representative of Italy in this county and Secretary Blaine. Hereafter the state department will be obliged to communicate directly with the Italian government at Rome.

No confirmation of the report that eighteen American citizens have been arrested at Rome and held as hostages can be obtained at the state department. Assistant Secretary Adee said that so far as he was advised, only two American citizens had been arrested in Italy within the last three months. One of these had been released, and the other Home and Training School for Missionwas arrested some time prior to the New Orleans affair.

Secretary Blaine had a long consultation with the president on the new aspect in the diplomatic negotiations with Italy.

AN ISSUE OF IMPORTANCE.

Baron Fava to be Given His Passport at

Once. WASHINGTON, April 1. - Secretary

Blaine will make an official announcement of Baron Fava's recall, possibly containing the ultimatum of this government, but in the meantime the baron's pleasant personal relations with the state department and this country will have been severed. The baron's passport, of course, will be given to him at once. The situation is so new and serious that official comments can be obtained from any source. There must be time for the administration to think, and it has as yet had little or no opportunity to digest the facts in a calm manner. It is doubtful whether, in view of the extraordinary circumstances of the recall, there will be the formalities at the White House usual upon such an occasion as the departure of a minister. Indeed, when this affair is looked at from a distance of time it will appear to have been very much hurried.

The letter from Governor Nicolls to Secretary Blaine caused the trouble. It was received several days ago and a copy was sent at once to Baron Fava. This, of course, gave it the appearance of being the ultimatum of this government, and it appears that the baron accepted it as such and cabled it in that character to his government.

Beron Fava has worked for his home interests to the degree of appearing overzealous at this end of the line, but later developments would indicate that there could not have been too much zeal on his part to suit his government, which appears to have made the matter an issue of the highest importance. Those commenting on the surprising event of the day agree that to break away from this government is not merely an act of discourtesy, but of open hostility. To have done it pending the investigations and progress of the law in New Orleans is significant, it is said, of an utter disregard of the conventionalities and ethics of modern diplomacy. Indeed, in that light, this government now has logical reason for feeling affronted at this lack of faith in its assurances on the port of its hot-headed neighbor.

NEW YORK ITALIANS EXCITED.

How the News of Baron Fava's Recall Was Received in the Metropolis.

THE LOCKOUT ENDED.

The Clothing Cutters of Rochester, N. Y., Repudiate the K. of L.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 1. - The locked-out clothing cutters held a meeting yesterday and passed resolutions repudiating the K. of L. and the leaders and denouncing the boycott. The manufacturers have determined to receive the applications of the men for work and the lockout is therefore at an end. James Hughes, indicted for conspiracy and extortion against the manufactur-ers, was brought from Philadelphia.

Stricken Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, April 1.—The grip scourge in this city is still holding on with deadly results. Some seventy-two funerals occurred yesterday, and an equal number curred yesterday, and an equal number postponed, there being a dearth of hearses and carriages. Ordinarily the death rate shows 25 per cent. youths. Now, however, it shows 25 per cent. aged, showing the dreaded disease is more fatal with increasing years. Many well-known old citizens are reported dangerously ill. The grip in fatal cases runs into pneumonia, with consequent runs into pneumonia, with consequent sudden deaths.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The president, as now advised, will leave Washington on Wednesday, April 15, on his Cali-fornia trip. The party that will accompany him will be small and will probably include no ladies. Several members of the cabinet will be of the party, including Secretary Tracy, who will avail himself of the opportunity afforded by the trip to visit the Mare Island navy yard and the Union Iron works, at San Francisco, where several United States vessels are now in course of construction. The itinerary of the trip is not as yet mapped out, as the president will probably be away in all about six weeks. Numerous letters of inquiry as to what cities the president and party will pass himself of the opportunity afforded by Troy Crib club. cities the president and party will pass through are being daily received at the executive mansion, but no replies can be made, as the president himself has not yet made up his mind as to the exact route he will take. FOR CIGAR MANUFACTURERS.

New Regulations Established for the Manufacturers of Cigars.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Commissioner Mason has issued a circular letter to collectors of internal revenue prohibiting the sale of tobacco stamps to manufacturers of cigars. It says: "The practice of allowing cigar manufacturers to put of the cigar of th up in packages their scrap clippings, etc., and attach thereto to-bacco stamps and place the same on the market as manufactured tobacco should be discontinued. Cigar manufacturers have no right to dispose of their scraps, cuttings, clippings, etc., in this manner. They may sell the same to a manufacturer of tobacco or to another cigar manufacturer, but not being manufacturers of tobacco themselves they cannot properly procure tobacco stamps. Collectors of internal revenue are not per-mitted to sell tobacco stamps to a person who is a manufacturer of cigars only. If cigar manufacturers desire to dispose of scraps, cuttings, clippings, etc., accumulating in their factories they will have to qualify as manufacturers of tobacco. They will not be permitted to carry on the business of manufacturer of cigars and manufacturer of tobacco in the same premises. As a different rule has obtained for many years you will notify manufacturers of cigars of this change. The regulations heretofore established upon this subject and contained in series 7, No. 8, and the tax manual for cigar manufacturers being in violation of section 33699, revised statutes, are hereby rescinded."

TROY, N. Y., April 1.—Cal McCarthy, who has for over two years been the company Him-Ladies Will Probably feather-weight champion of America, last night surrendered the title to George Dixon, the colored boxer of Boston, who has also won the feather-weight championship of England. Dixon has been, ever since the match was made, the favorite in the betting, but McCarthy, who has many friends and admirers among the wealthier sporting people of New York and vicinity, carried considerable money. The contest took place in the rink of the Troy Bicycle club, on Federal street, under the auspices of the Troy Crib club.

Auliffe, who was seconding McCarthy, Aunite, who was seconding McCarthy, took him from the ring to revive him, but referee Jerry Dunn brought him back and Dixon gave the second knock during the affair with a staggering right-hander. #### APRIL'S MERRY ENTRY.

A MONTH USHERED IN THE WORLD OVER WITH PRACTICAL JOKES.

Prominent Men Who Recall with Glee the Harmless Pranks of Their Youth at This Season of the Year-Ned Sothern's Huge Sell.

Copyright, 1891, by American Press Associaof books can apparently recall a time when there was no such thing as All Fools' Day. Chauncey M. Depew, David Dudley Field, ex-President Cleveland, Bob Ingersoll, Collis P. Huntington, John D. Rockefeller, Jay Gould,

O ONE in or out

Russell Sage, W. D. Howells, George William Curtis and all the other famous men of today look back to the time when they shouted, "Ah, you April fools!" with as much enthusiasm as, according to their writings, did Dean Swift, Ben Jonson and the other great wits of bygone generations, when they had reached their years of manhood and philosophy.

But neither the one nor the other, neither the celebrities of the Nineteenth century nor the celebrities of the centuries that have gone before, know anything about the day-where it came from, how it originated or why it was ever celebrated, and, being celebrated, why it was handed down to us just as much an institution as is Christmas or Easter.

Learned writers have dissected it in grave volumes and gay; they have delved deep down into antiquity, exhausted reams of paper, burned gallons of midmight oil, worn away scores of pens in every age trying to trace the origin of that day with its queer customs, but in win. Whether it came from France into Germany and from Germany into Rangland, or just the reverse, not a sinde one of the students who has probed the subject is able to say. Chambers, Brand, Hock, Grimm, all searched carefally for a trace of its origin without meeting with a reward for their labors, and the learned scholars who flourish now have been equally unsuccessful, unthe conclusion is forced that the greatest "April fool" of all is the day itself—a big joke that has been fastened en the world for hundreds of years withcat rhyme or reason.

All sorts of theories by all sorts of people are put forward to account for practice, but at the critical moment the writers hedge and wind up by wing that "no positive authority can be found to warrant this deduction," or mething else to that effect.

SHE "PICKED UP" A WATCH

One author suggests that it probably seiginated in France during the year 1064, when the New Year's day was changed from April 1 to Jan. 1. This, he argues, left the former date without sigmicance, "a burlesque, an absurdity, and it was concluded to celebrate it thereafter in an absurd fashion." From Brance, he thinks, the custom might be traced to England and thence to Germany, but he is very careful not to undertake this task of tracing himself.

Another savant thinks he can date the custom back to Biblical times, and opines that it had its origin in the aimless wandurings of Christ when he was sent to and fro between Herod, Pilate and Caiaphas; but like the other he studiously avoids details, contenting himself with the general assertion of his belief. Probby the most reasonable suggestion of is that the strange observance was introduced into Europe from Hindostan, though here, as elsewhere, the connecting link is vague. But it is certain that a similar custom prevails to this day mong the Hindoos. Their Huli termites on the 31st of March, and on that my it is the practice to send neighbors on all sorts of fool's errands.

The greater the hardship and disapcontment involved the greater is the meneral satisfaction of all the victim's friends and acquaintances. Anything and everything is permissible as a "joke" this occasion, and no redress, by course of law or otherwise, is possible. The grave Hindostanese for once relax their oriental rigor and shout, "Ah, you April fools!" How the observance could. have found its way in the early days of limited intercourse to general favor in Aurope is not by any means clear, but for want of a better explanation this way of accounting for the day is most

In France records are found of it at an early date, and it is set forth that a "young woman of noble parentage" med in the latter part of the Fifteenth century to use the occasion as a scapegoat for her sins. It seems that, like many another young lady of "noble parentage," this particular young person had an itching palm for other people's property. Once upon a time her cupidity got the better of her discretion, and she "picked up" a watch in the most approved Nineteenth century kleptomaniac

pleading as an excuse that it was merely an April fool's joke. A messenger was then sent to her house to find the stolen watch, which ! the "noble" young lady insisted had been lost. After a weary search the messenger found the hidden timepiece, and then the audacious prisoner called the occasion once more to her rescue, stating that she had merely intended to make a poisson d'Avril of the messenger. But the stern magistrate turned the tables by sentencing her to durance vile, there to remain until the following April 1, as a poisson d'Avril. This poisson d'Avril, by the way, is a peculiar feature of the French April Fool's day, the Gauls, for some reason that is as obscure as the history of the day itself, dropping the fool and substituting instead poisson, making it an "April fish" instead of an may mean peace. The Morewood works

The French, with true polish, never observed the day with harsh practical jokes, but across the channel, and particularly in Scotland, the April fool always had a pretty rough row to hoe. Like the Hindoos, the Scotch found their greatest delight in sending some confiding and not overbright fellow on an aimless and indefinite journey. So enthusiastic did the Scots become in this sport that for several hundred years a regular couplet has been in vogue for the use of April fool jokers, running:

On the first of April Send the gowk another mile. Armed with this note, addressed in a sealed envelope to a neighbor some miles away, the poor "gowk" would trudge the weary distance only to be sent

'SEND THE GOWK ANOTHER MILE." farther along from place to place, until some one would take pity on him and inform him that he was the victim of a

In England, as in America, the day is chiefly sacred to the uses of the mischievous small boy. But one or two great April fool sells have become historical. The most famous of all was the hoax played on the aristocracy by a wag who issued cards in April, 1860, admitting the noble ladies and gentlemen of London to "the Tower to see the white lions washed." It was an overwhelming success, as far as calling the invited guests out by hundreds went.

The elder Sothern played a similar trick on the swell society people of New York. He issued cards anonymously to an amateur operatic performance which was to be "very select." The Academy of Music, according to the invitations, had been secured for the occasion. The elect turned out in swarms. Arrived at the academy they found a sign announcing that because of a disagreement with the owners of the theater the performance had been transferred to Wallack's.

Re-entering its equipages society was driven to Wallack's. There the same kind of a notice stared them in the face, and they were requested to go to the Union Square. From the Union Square hey were sent uptown again to the Standard, where finally they found a sign pointing out the fact that it was All Fools' Day. Then there was some strong language on the part of the male members of society and exclamations of graded fervor from the ladies. It transpired somehow that Sothern was the author of the joke, and he was ever afterward rigidly boycotted by his vic-

Chauncey M. Depew was an inveterate practical joker in his youth, though he always was careful that his jokes should be harmless. April Fools' Day was a perfect feast for him, and the "oldest inhabitants" of "Our Chauncey's" birthplace at Peekskill tell all sorts of hair raising yarns about the famous orator's annual pranks on that occasion. More door bells were "ham strung," clothes lines tied in knots and strange noises created in strange places in neighborhoods where Chauncey happened to be than have been known or heard of since.

Mr. Depew, when questioned as to the accuracy of these reports, admitted with a knowing smile that there might be 'semething in them," but added that he never indulged in the practice now.

LITTLE CHAUNCEY AT HIS PRANKS. David Dudley Field, the venerable lean of the American bar, is another one of the famous men who was fond of a oke on All Fools' Day when he was a lad. "We played all sorts of pranks on one another," Mr. Field said recently, "but never accomplished anything in the April fool line that is calculated to stand out in history. As we grew older we had to drop all that sort of thing and attend to business, for New England parents were rather strict disciplinarians in those days.' "Bob" Ingersoll, too, recalled lively April fool times when he was a boy, as did the other well known men who were seen. But none of them had ever gone into the thing with the cold blooded calstyle. She was arrested and confessed, culation that characterized Sothern's great "amateur opera" joke.

PEACE AT MOREWOOD.

THE SCENE OF BATTLE QUIET AT SOME POINTS, BUT THREATENING.

Miners Stoned and Clubbed-The Sheriff and Posse on Guard at Morewood-The Strikers Hold Several Meetings-Deputy Sheriffs Driven from the Leith Works.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., April 1.—Quiet reigned at Morewood yesterday. It may only be the calm that precedes the storm. There is some hope, however, that it are again in active operation. The work of removing the coke from the ovens was begun. Men are also at work in the mines, and the officials of Morewood are showing a bold front to the strikers. About fifty workmen are employed, and as many more could be had if desired. Deputies armed with stout hicko y clubs and loaded revolvers patrol the works, and the order has been issued to shoot and shoot to kill in case of forcible attack. No demonstration about the works has taken place, however. Serious apprehension was felt at Morewood for the safety of the works at Mutual. The tactics of the strikers, the numerous bands and the noise of riot in the village continuing until about midnight and then suddenly ceasing, and every light being put out, led to the belief that an attack was to be made somewhere. The telephone line to Stonerville and United was found to have been cut in the night, and nothing could be heard from Mutual. When the line was repaired it was learned that no attack had been made on the thirtyfive deputies there, and so far as is known in Mt. Pleasant the night was passed without violence. Connellsville reports that no riots occurred in the works around there.

Expect Gov. Pattison's Arrival.

Word was spread among the strikers that Governor Pattison was to arrive. It is believed that this helped at least to prevent an attack. No foundation for the story can be learned. Warrants are out for about twenty-four of the leaders of the riot on Monday morning, but probably no arrests will be made. Mrs. Ramsay, the wife of Superintendent Robert Ramsey, who was frightened nearly to death by the mobs attacking the house, is better. The strikers held a meeting in their hall in Mt. Pleasant to death a meeting in their hall in Mt. Pleasant to decide upon their course of action. Another mass meeting was held at Connellsville

The strikers are encouraged by the refusal of Governor Pattison to call out the troops. It gives the more ignorant the impression that the state is backing them. Though the leaders know better, the refusal to call out the troops will undoubtedly be a strong argument with them to encourage the strikers to further deeds of violence. This is the reason why the deputy sheriffs all over the coke region are apprehensive, and expectant every minute to hear the shouts of the rioters advancing to the assault, and to see the shafts of their mines go up in flames.

Like the Old Persians. The strikers seem to have adopted a regular military system of attack. As described by the deputies it resembles the scheme of the old Persians. They choose midnight as their hour of rendezvous. With drums beating and with the blare of brass bands they march upon the works to be attacked and surround it on all sides. They have an arranged code of signals so that every band may accurately co-operate. order is given, the answering signals respond, with shouts and crackle of revolvers and guns the organized mob advances to the attack upon Morewood. The defense was hardly worth mentioning. What could 20 men do against 1,000? The sheriff was with them and would not let them shoot. Perhaps it was wise, for there were twenty times as many with the mob as among the de-

WOMAN RIOTERS.

A Big Force of Deputies Could Do Nothing With the Mob at the Leith Works.

Uniontown, Pa., April 1.—The Frick company made another attempt to work at Leith, and had a few men drawing coke. A body of about fifteen Slav women, followed by a crowd of men, swooped down on them and drove them Deputy Sheriffs Allen and Wilson, who had gone to the works to make some arrests, attempted to check them, but the women paid no attention to them and dared the deputies to arrest them and dared the deputies to arrest them. They beat the deputies and stoned them and drove them off. Gen-eral Superintendent Lynch was with the deputies and drew his revolver and ordered the mob off the company's ground. The force of deputies could do nothing with the large mob, and only succeeded in making one arrest out of the eleven for whom they had warrants.

THE GOVERNOR'S VIEWS.

Why He Declined to Interfere in the Coke Trouble.

HARRISBURG, April 1 .- The state has taken no action in regard to the trouble in the coke regions. It is the general belief that the trouble there has been exaggerated and that undue importance has been attached to it. The outbreak seems to be caused, the executive department says, by some 15,000 or 16,000 idle The immediate cause of the riot was the expiration recently of the old contract between employer and employes. When it came to a renewal of the contract, the men demanded the old scale of wages and the employers insisted on a reduction. It is believed that the present trouble will cause a shortage of coke and end in no injury to the workingmen. It is not a matter is which the state has any right to meddle.

VIOLENCE PREVENTED

By the Unfavorable Weather-Ringleaders to be Arrested.

SCOTTDALE, PA., April 1.—All the ringleaders of Monday's riotous demonstrations will be arrested on warrants of the Frick company for riot, conspiracy, assault, etc. The strikers between here and Broad Ford congregated and intended to make another raid on the Jimtown plant, where the men are still working, but abandoned it, owing to the unfavorable weather. All is serene at Leisenring No. 3, which was the scene of a riot. Rae and Penna, the national officials of the United Mine Workers, attended a central board meeting of all the trades organizations. They have made provisions for the relief of the distressed families.
